

Employment Litigation and Dispute Resolution

Many of the world's leading companies turn to our team of experienced litigators to represent their interests. With many lawyers who are acknowledged as leaders in their fields by independent directories, we understand the legal, business and procedural developments in jurisdictions throughout the world.

Globalization of world markets has increased the potential for legal liability, exposing multinational employers to financial and reputational risk across multiple jurisdictions. Senior management, directors and employees also need the best legal advice when disputes arise.

We have one of the largest international litigation, arbitration and dispute resolution practices, with lawyers around the globe. We represent clients in a wide range of employment disputes. Through innovative dispute resolution strategies and effective case management, we aim to identify and execute the most advantageous business-oriented solutions, either by pursuing or defending litigation or arbitration proceedings, or through alternative methods, such as mediation.

APAC employment issues arising out of the Coronavirus

31 January 2020

On 29 January 2020, the number of confirmed cases of the rapidly spreading coronavirus in Mainland China officially surpassed the figure seen during the 2002/2003 SARS epidemic.

Multinationals with local operations around the APAC region have been significantly affected. As staff return to the office following the Chinese New Year holiday period, businesses are now considering what they can do to minimise any risk to health and safety and support staff through this challenging period where anxiety and uncertainty is rife, whilst at the same time complying with their employment obligations and maintaining business continuity. Putting in place detailed business and contingency plans and ensuring careful communications with staff to address key topics and concerns is key, as is keeping such plans and communications under frequent review given the fluidity of the current situation.

This alert considers some of the key issues that HR and business leaders should be considering across the APAC region.
