

Global Governance and Compliance

DLA Piper's Global Governance and Compliance group has unparalleled experience helping clients with international operations meet the evolving – and sometimes conflicting – expectations of regulatory and enforcement agencies.

With compliance-focused lawyers in over 75 offices covering more than 35 countries and their capital cities, we have the global breadth, local knowledge and industry experience to guide clients in all aspects of designing, implementing and managing compliance programs, assessing and mitigating risk, remediating compliance issues and running internal investigations.

The best compliance program in the world is worthless if it cannot be implemented effectively. Importantly, our Compliance team includes former general counsels and in-house chief compliance counsel, as well as business leaders who ensure we provide practical and actionable advice.

Regulators recognize this and often investigate whether an organization's compliance program is truly integrated, or whether it is simply a paper program. But a compliance program is equally worthless if it does not also allow you to conduct business profitably and efficiently. We understand this balance and ensure that our compliance advice and recommendations can be implemented and eliminate or mitigate a company's greatest legal risks without disrupting lawful business goals and practices.

EXPERIENCE

Our clients include:

- A $130 billion financial services company for which we helped build a global compliance program from the ground up while under the scrutiny of a federal monitor
- Some of the largest-in-class pharmaceutical and consumer products companies for which we have re-designed, tested and remediated global compliance programs in the world's highest-risk countries
- International airlines with operations in four continents
- Energy companies of all stripes
- A wide range of sophisticated organizations requiring support in internal investigations, such as the investigation into the use of steroids in Major League Baseball and the monitoring of Penn State University as supervised by DLA Piper Chairman Emeritus Senator George Mitchell
