Sinead Lynch has significant experience in large scale, innovative sourcing transactions, managed services initiatives, telecommunications procurement and other strategic and complex IT, telecommunications and commercial projects for customers and suppliers in both the public and private sector. Sinead has particular experience advising in regulated industry sectors, including telecommunications, energy and utilities.

Sinead is also a trusted advisor on data protection, data security and privacy, cyber security, breach management and related compliance issues for clients operating in these sectors. She has a particular interest in data compliance issues of emerging technologies.

RELATED SERVICES

- Telecom
- Technology Transactions and Strategic Sourcing
- Projects, Energy and Infrastructure
- Data Protection, Privacy and Security

EXPERIENCE

- Advising BT plc on a large number of commercial and ICT agreements, including:
  - its strategic PaaS agreement with a leading multi-national technology provider (which included advice on data protection and cyber-security compliance issues)
  - on a comprehensive review and amendment to existing business-to-business template agreements, including for the provision of software and related products and services, short form terms & conditions and acceptable use policy, drafting and advice on specific BT products and services to customers including that involving the BT customer subscribing to a third party's end user subscription agreement, and providing commercial advice on related back-to back supply agreements*
- Acting for BT Openreach on its key subcontracting agreements with high profile vendors relating to the rollout of high-speed broadband communications across the UK underpinning the UK BDUK programme*
- Advising a FTSE 100 energy group on its procurement of mobile voice and data communications services, including field services and related equipment agreements with a leading telecommunications provider which included strategic advice on data protection and security related issues, as well as on market practice for cloud and shared platform service providers*

- Advising a FTSE 100 energy group on its significant procurement and second generation sourcing to Vodafone GE for the design, transformation, support and maintenance of its gas remote site communications systems (including satellite technologies) supporting the national gas distribution network in the UK, part of the UK's critical national infrastructure (CNI)*
- Advising a leading subsea telecommunications network service provider on the preparation of its customer terms (intended for use by leading cloud customers, including Microsoft) as part of its commercialisation of its significant subsea fibre optic cable networks being constructed to provide high volume communications services between New York and West Coast of Ireland, including preparing and advising on various dark fibre IRUs, spectrum IRUs and capacity lease agreements*

Australian Privacy Act Review

5 November 2020

The Terms of Reference (ToR) and Issues Paper for the long-awaited review of the Privacy Act 1988 Cth (Act) has finally been released by the Government.

A commitment to review the Act was first announced by the Government following the ACCC's Digital Platform Enquiry in 2018/19, and it is good to see proposals for this Review finally taking shape, notwithstanding COVID priorities.

Public submissions are being requested to respond on the ToR and the 68+ other questions in the Issues Paper, accompanying the ToR. The closing date for submissions is 29 November 2020. A second consultation on specific outcomes from the preliminary review will take place in early 2021, including any possible options for reform.

Here comes the sun? The Financial Services Royal Commission and technology implications

15 MAY 2019

After a wait of 12 months, a culmination of sweat and, probably, tears was on display. Many expected and indeed wanted blood and an embracing of change. Yet at the end of the day, and in spite of being rattled, orthodoxy remained standing if bruised to its core. An anticlimactic result for the vast majority of the public. The release of the Final Report of the Royal Commission into Misconduct in the Banking, Superannuation and Financial Services Industry aka the Hayne Commission aka the FSRC.
