

Pro Bono Latest Series

ISSUES

How DLA Piper is helping The Royal Foundation fight the illegal wildlife trade

15 May 2019

Pro Bono Latest Series

The illegal wildlife trade is estimated to be valued between USD50-150 billion per year, and is among the five most lucrative global crimes. It fuels instability and criminality in both demand and supply countries. The transport industry and customs authorities can become involved, often unwittingly, with those who traffic wildlife products – such as ivory, rhino horn and pangolin scales.
