

SportsLaw podcasts

In our SportsLaw podcast series, we sit down with senior figures in the industry to discuss key legal issues affecting their world.

ISSUES

SportsLaw podcast: Academy players, agents and on-field discipline

20 November 2019

SportsLaw podcasts

How are agents regulated in rugby? What makes a good rugby agent? And are there any recent trends in on-field disciplinary offences in rugby? In the last part of our series with the RFU, Nick Fitzpatrick and Alasdair Muller speak to Angus Bujalski and Stuart Tennant to find out.

SportsLaw podcast: Betting integrity and anti-doping: The RFU approach

15 October 2019

SportsLaw podcasts

In the second episode of DLA Piper's SportsLaw Podcast, Nick Fitzpatrick and Alasdair Muller speak with Angus Bujalski and Stuart Tennant from the RFU. The discussion looks at how the RFU's overarching integrity strategy is used to combat issues such as match fixing and doping.

SportLaw podcast: Rugby World Cup and players' social media

17 September 2019

SportsLaw podcasts

Nick Fitzpatrick and Alasdair Muller speak to RFU Legal and Governance Director Angus Bujalski and RFU Legal Counsel Stuart Tennant about the upcoming World Cup and players' use of social media.