

Tax Controversy and Disputes

DLA Piper's Tax Controversy practice focuses on complex tax controversy matters, including tax audits, administrative appeals, claims for refund, voluntary disclosures and civil tax litigation as well as criminal tax matters.

Our tax controversy practice consists of experienced lawyers with excellent credentials in the area of tax law and tax criminal law who are repeatedly recognized as leaders in the areas of tax disputes and tax litigation.

For many years we have represented multinational corporations, privately owned companies, partnerships, limited liability companies, high-net-worth individuals and trusts and estates in all aspects of sophisticated tax controversies and criminal tax matters around the world.

Many of our Tax Controversy and Disputes lawyers have more than 20 years of experience in private practice and many have experience in government service.

Close cooperation between our international offices and the regular involvement of colleagues in neighboring fields such as criminal law, employment law and corporate law allows us to provide comprehensive and solution-orientated advice in the representation of our clients.

CAPABILITIES

We advise and represent our clients in both national and international tax proceedings, in tax audits and in connection with tax criminal proceedings. Our services include:

- Assistance during tax audits, development of audit strategies and subsequent proceedings (e.g. tax settlement agreements)
