

Podcast: The Nature & Prevalence of Pro Bono Partner Roles Globally

A discussion on the increasing role of pro bono within law firms and how these practices have evolved over the past decade.

17 June 2021

Listen to our discussion on the increasing role of pro bono within law firms and how these practices have evolved over the past decade.

DLA Piper · The Nature and Prevalence of Pro Bono Partner Roles Globally

Following the release of the Report on the Nature & Prevalence of Pro Bono Partner Roles Globally, Nicolas Patrick, Head of Responsible Business at DLA Piper met with Brooke Massender (HSF), Yasmin Waljee (Hogan Lovells), Claire Donse (DLA Piper) and Kerry Stares (Charles Russell Speechlys) to discuss the role of a PB partner, the increase in PB partner promotions over the last year, how pro bono practices have evolved over the past decade and to give a sense of what PB work entails. This podcast also addresses the gender dimension of slow career progression in an area dominated by women, and how the ESG agenda has impacted career progression in this area.

Speakers

- Kerry Stares, Charles Russell Speechlys
- Yasmin Waljee OBE, Hogan Lovells
- Brooke Massender, Herbert Smith Freehills
- Claire Donse, DLA Piper
- Nicolas Patrick, DLA Piper