Tom Geraghty practices domestic and international corporate tax law spanning a wide spectrum of areas. He has extensive experience in advising fund sponsors, investment advisors and investors who seek to identify and implement tax-efficient structures worldwide in order to enhance after-tax yields.

Tom has counseled on investments for US and non-US investors across a broad base of asset classes, including real estate, infrastructure and debt and equities. He provides tax representation to US and non-US issuers and underwriters of debt and equity instruments, including variable and fixed-rate notes, collateralized debt obligations and other capital market transactions.

In addition, Tom counsels clients on the tax aspects of credit facilities and other loans made by domestic and foreign lenders as well as many aspects of restructuring transactions. He also concentrates on mergers and acquisitions, including developing, documenting and negotiating acquisition and financing structures for both corporations and investment funds.
