

WIN Insights Report 2021-22: In-house lawyers as business enablers

19 May 2022

Run as part of our successful programme for in-house lawyers – What In-house lawyers Need (WIN), this report highlights the experiences of nearly 300 in-house lawyers from around the world, providing insight into the opportunities and challenges facing in-house teams over the next 18 months.

Download the report

We spoke to in-house lawyers from a wide range of sectors from around the world to bring together a truly global snapshot into the evolution of the in-house role. The key themes explored within the report include:

- business growth and legal innovation are top legal objectives;
- sustainability and ESG have become key business priorities;
- organisations are adapting to company restructures and leadership changes;
- in-house lawyers are acting strategically as true business partners; and
- organisations are implementing long-term flexible working and employee wellbeing policies.

To hear more on the themes identified within the report, please visit the WIN website to watch our WIN Insights presentation of the findings and visit the WIN: On Demand webinar page to watch our recorded panel discussion exploring the considerations for in-house lawyers in 2022.

We hope you find the report insightful and welcome your feedback.

To ensure you are amongst the first to receive further updates and event invitations from WIN and gain access to a comprehensive library of webinars, podcasts and best practice toolkits, please ensure you are registered to WIN online.

WIN: Knowledge, support and networking for the in-house legal community

Our multi award-winning WIN programme is all about you: an evolving series of events, tools and forums addressing the legal, commercial and personal aspects of working in-house.

WIN now operates in 40 cities worldwide, with over 10,000 registered users from over 100 countries. Join our growing community by registering for WIN today. Visit dlapiperwin.com for more information.

Are you an in-house lawyer doing work in Africa?

Click here to download the dedicated Africa WIN Insights and Benchmarking report, looking at the changes in-house lawyers are living through, the challenges they face and the future of the in-house legal function.