

TechLaw Event Series

#TechLaw

22 June 2017

9:15 AM - 1:00 PM AEST

DLA Piper Australia

Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung Country

80 Collins Street

Melbourne

VIC 3000

Australia

This year our keynote speaker, from Deloitte, Nicholas White, will present on Deloitte's TMT predictions for 2017. These predictions reveal the perspectives gained from hundreds of conversations with industry leaders, and tens of thousands of consumer interviews across the globe. The predictions identify critical inflection points that inform industry strategic thinking, and explain how these will manifest over the next 12-18 months for companies in TMT, and other industries.

We will also explore digital transformation with Nicholas Boyle. Nick will lead a Q&A on a range of options by which organisations are engaging with and facing the challenges of digital transformation, including investment, strategic partnerships and procurement, and in-house development. Nick will be joined by Greg Cassis, Technology Sourcing Advisory Consultant and Hannah McMurtrie, Senior Corporate Lawyer at IAG.

As machine learning goes mainstream, the disruption to traditional business models is inevitable. Sinead Lynch will chair a panel debate on the impact that AI and RPA technologies are having on HR practices, traditional contracting models and existing business process.

Finally, TechLAW would not be complete without an update on cybersecurity and data protection. Tim Lyons will look at the latest changes in legislation, as well as how the most recent cyber crisis as impacted Australian organisations and what companies can continue to do to prevent/mitigate these attacks.

PROGRAM

TIME	TOPIC
9.00am	Registration
9.30am	Welcome
9.35am	Deloitte's technology, media and telecommunications trends 2017
10.15am	Digital transformation
11.00am	Morning Tea
11.15am	Update: cybersecurity and data protection
11.15am	Digital disruption and the use of AI - what is the price of success?
12.30pm	Networking lunch

ENQUIRIES

For further information, please contact Natalie Green (T: +61 7 3246 4124).

SPEAKERS

- Nicholas Boyle
- Tim Lyons