Erin Chamberlain practises civil and commercial litigation, and transportation law with a particular focus on railway matters.

She represents clients and assists senior counsel on a broad range of civil and commercial disputes, including estate litigation and class action defence.

Erin's transportation practice focuses on using statutory remedies to obtain better rail service for shippers, terminals, and other clients. These remedies include arbitration on level of services and level of service complaint proceedings before the Canadian Transportation Agency. Erin also has extensive experience with demurrage disputes.

Erin earned her Juris Doctor from the University of Alberta and her Bachelor of Arts from the University of British Columbia. During law school, she was an active member of the University of Alberta's Student Legal Services, in the Criminal Law Division.

Erin joined the firm as a summer student in 2017, articulated with the firm in 2018, and became an associate in 2019. In addition to her experience at DLA Piper, Erin has interned with a prominent commercial real estate company, and a criminal law firm in Vancouver.
