Edward Chatterton handles intellectual property work, with a particular emphasis on matters in Hong Kong and the PRC.

He advises on the full range of intellectual property matters, including the ownership, maintenance, protection and exploitation of intellectual property, clearance work and dispute resolution, both in resolving disputes pre-action and in formal litigation.

He has been involved in handling a wide range of matters before the courts and intellectual property offices in Hong Kong, China, the UK and Europe. Edward has also managed complex multi-national litigation and enforcement work, particularly in the Asia-Pacific region.

Edward advises clients across a diverse range of industries including FMCG companies, fashion and luxury goods brands, financial institutions and technology companies, as well as organisations in the manufacturing and construction industries.

In addition to his intellectual property work, Edward advises on data privacy issues in Hong Kong and across Asia and also media-related disputes and advice.
