Jean-Pierre (JP) Douglas-Henry has over 25 years' experience advising clients in relation to litigation, arbitration and regulatory and compliance issues, and on ESG matters, in more than 45 jurisdictions.

Jean-Pierre's experience spans acting for multinational corporate clients, ultra high net worth individuals and their family offices, sovereign states, government agencies and instrumentalities and state-owned enterprises in relation to a wide range of contentious issues in the financial services, energy and mining sectors in particular. In addition to acting in numerous high-stakes litigation and arbitration claims to interpret and enforce contracts, and in pursuit of tortious claims, JP has particular expertise advising on corruption and embezzlement issues, and in asset recovery actions across multiple jurisdictions against former government officials and their associates. JP has also advised clients on a range of ESG issues including, in particular, human rights and governance issues.

- Litigation, Arbitration and Investigations

DLA Piper commits to reduce greenhouse gas emissions as part of sustainability strategy

22 September 2020

DLA Piper International has committed to set science-based targets to reduce emissions across its entire value chain through the Science Based Target initiative (SBTi), a coalition established in 2015 which enables companies to set emission reduction targets in line with the Paris Agreement.

The initiative champions science-based target setting as a powerful way of boosting companies' competitive advantage in the transition to the low-carbon economy. It is a collaboration between CDP, the United Nations (UN) Global Compact, World Resources Institute (WRI) and the World Wide Fund for Nature (WWF). The SBTi is the lead partner of the Business Ambition for 1.5°C campaign – an urgent call to action from a global coalition of UN agencies, business and industry leaders, calling on companies to set science-based targets that align with limiting global temperature rise to 1.5°C above pre-industrial levels.
