Direct Lending Report 2022: Going mainstream

7 April 2022

Direct lenders have proved the doubters wrong. This is especially true across the European leveraged finance market that was, until recently, controlled by traditional banks. The inroads made by private debt funds in a few short years have been impressive. In this report we look back over a year of abundance and outline what can be expected in 2022

Old dog, new tricks: Direct lending in the US

7 April 2022

The US direct lending market may be more mainstream than its European cousin but was far from dull, enjoying its biggest year ever in 2021. Fundraisers in the US direct lending market pulled off a remarkable feat in 2020. As panic set in around the world and businesses battered down the hatches, private debt managers celebrated a stand-out year.

The journey continues: The future of direct lending

7 April 2022

Europe's direct lending market has come an awful long way over the past decade, and yet has so much more room to grow. Direct lending is becoming mainstream but forecasts show it could become commonplace. Oxford University's Said Business School has estimated that assets under management (AUM) may rise by up to 50% in the medium term if market penetration grows in line with current levels seen in the US, measured by AUM as a percentage of GDP.
