

Craig Lang

Partner

craig.lang@dlapiper.com

Silicon Valley

T: +1 650 833 2083

F: +1 650 687 1163

Craig Lang's corporate and securities practice focuses on advising emerging private companies, helping them raise equity financing and manage their businesses from formation stage to liquidity.

Craig also has a particular focus assisting venture capital, corporate and strategic investors to structure and close investments in emerging growth companies. In his twenty years practicing law in Silicon Valley, he has worked with a wide variety of companies from startup companies to larger, public companies.

- Corporate
- Finance
- Emerging Growth and Venture Capital

Admissions

- California

Prior Experience

Prior to joining DLA Piper as a partner, Craig worked as general counsel at a major Silicon Valley venture capital firm, structuring and closing hundreds of venture financings, and working closely with dozens of portfolio companies.

Education

- J.D., Georgetown University Law Center
cum laude
- B.A., Political Science , Washington and Lee University
cum laude

NEWS

DLA Piper Canada advised home-to-home food technology platform Tre'dish

4 November 2021

On November 3, 2021, home-to-home food technology platform and community marketplace, Tre'dish Inc. announced a $10 million seed funding round as it commercializes and scales operations across the U.S. and Canada.
