Jeremy Scemama has been working for more than 20 years with industrial groups and investment funds on a large number of transfers, acquisitions and mergers of listed companies – by means of cash tender offers, exchange tender offers, buyout offers, squeeze outs or standing market offers – and non-listed companies.

Jeremy has also advised on numerous initial public offerings and issuance of financial instruments through a public offering or private placement, either for the issuer or for the bank underwriter.

Furthermore, Jeremy has also developed an extensive experience in the implementation of ethics and compliance rules within listed industrial groups.

Preparing for takeovers in the light of coronavirus

30 April 2020

While takeover activity has fallen significantly since the crisis began, there will come a point where bid activity will increase quickly. This note covers some of the issues that buyers and target companies should consider when preparing for that time.
