Alex Tamlyn has over 30 years of experience advising clients on corporate finance, UK and international securities offerings, Class 1 acquisitions and disposals, schemes of arrangement, corporate governance and securities regulation, directors' duties and shareholder disputes.

Alex is Head of DLA Piper's EMEA Capital Markets practice, and is Co-Chair of the firm's Boardroom Advisory Services practice which launched in February 2019 and which is designed to support the lifecycle of boardroom needs. It promotes the quality and resilience of board decisions, helps manage risk, enhances reputation and drives value creation within a legal and regulatory context.

In July 2018, Alex became a non-executive director of London main market listed British & American Investment Trust plc. Moreover, he serves as Chair of the Primary Markets Group of the London Stock Exchange – a body of senior representatives of issuers, investment banks, investors, law firms and accountants and the LSE who regularly meet to explore issues affecting the LSE's Primary Markets. This provides DLA Piper with a unique insight into current and impending capital markets rules, regulations and policy.

Beyond woke: Acting NOW on ESG

7 January 2021

In December 2019 I wrote a piece called "Twelve Days of Christmas", where each of the festive gifts symbolised a landmark of Sustainability and ESG (SESG), celebrating the good, acknowledging the bad and shaming one or two instances of the ugly. It illustrated the tremendous reach of ESG and put beyond doubt its immediate relevance to all businesses, in all sectors, in all geographies.

DLA Piper advises HUTCHMED on its Hong Kong IPO

8 July 2021

DLA Piper is advising global biopharmaceutical company HUTCHMED on its Hong Kong public offering. This will be the third listing for the company, following its first on London's AIM exchange and then NASDAQ in the US.
