23 February 2022

The DLA Piper Real Estate Podcast

The hotel industry faces a number of unique challenges in executing sustainable hotel operations, and how sustainability is then measured in hotel assets. In this webinar, Susan Samuel, a Real Estate Partner at DLA Piper discusses the opportunities and challenges for the hotel industry to move towards a sustainable and impactful future. Susan is joined by experts Ufi Ibrahim from The Energy & Environmental Alliance (EEA), a not-for-profit coalition of hospitality sector leaders focussed on sustainability, and James Fisher of the BRE Group, the group behind BREEAM, the world's leading sustainability assessment method for masterplanning projects, infrastructure and buildings.
